

The Daily Courant.

Monday, October 14. 1706.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated October 18.
Verona, October 3.

THE Hereditary Prince of Hesse-Cassel has pass'd the Po with his Body of Troops over the Bridge at Lago Oscuro; and the 1st of this Month was advanc'd to Revere, marching with Expedition towards the Cremonese; in Order 'tis suppos'd) to joyn Prince Eugene, or to enclose between them the Forces of the 2 Crowns commanded by the Count de Medavi, and help to reduce the Places of the Milaneze that are still in the Hands of the French.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated Oct. 19.

Milan, Oct. 4. The Governour of our Castle will not hear of surrendring, but makes great Preparations for its Defence. His Garrison consists of 3000 Men. The Place is block'd up by 5000 Men, but 'tis believ'd it must soon yield; because neither this Castle nor any other Place in the Milaneze is provided with Magazines, almost all the Stores of Ammunition and Provisions having been sent to the Siege of Turin. Prince Eugene is at present with 15 or 16000 Men about Muzza not far from Lodi, which Town he will endeavour to take, to facilitate his besieging Pavia. We have Advice, that the French having Intelligence the Imperialists were advanc'd to Lodi, retir'd from Picighitone to Cremona.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 10.

Geneva, Oct. 10. A Letter dated from Marignano the 28th of September runs thus, viz. The Duke of Savoy is here. Te Deum was sung in Milan the 26th. The Governour of the Castle of Milan is dead suddenly. The French Garrison in that Castle, consisting of 7 or 800 Men, have fir'd their Cannon upon the City, by which 2 of the principal Burghers were kill'd. But the commanding Officer of the Imperialists who attack them on the side that lyes open to the Country, has signified to them that if they fire any more on the City, he will put them all to the Sword, since they cannot expect to be succour'd. Como and Lodi have surrendred. Pavia is capitulating. 'Tis said the Enemy have quitted Picighitone. But these things require Confirmation.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 19.

From the Camp at Oulx, Oct. 3. The 30 of last Month the Duke of Orleans set out from hence for Briancon. M. de Vibray had enter'd the Valley of Aoste and advanc'd to the Town of that Name, but the Forces of the Duke of Savoy having possess'd themselves of the Fort of Bar, he sent an Express to the Duke of Orleans to acquaint him that he could penetrate no further than the Town of Aoste; and that therefore he would return with his Detachment by Mount St. Bernard. Two Days ago the Count de Bezons arriv'd here from Court, with Order to make the necessary Dispositions for returning into Piemont by the Valley of Suza the 20th of this Month with 50 Battallions and 60 Squadrons.

Leipsich, Oct. 9. The 4 Propositions or Demands which the King of Sweden has caus'd to be laid before the Estates of this Electorate assembled here, are these. I. That they deliver to his Commissaries an Account of the publick Taxes of this Year, and of the Method of levying them the preceeding Years. II. That they give them an Account to what Use those Revenues have been appropriated. III. That they likewise give them an Account of the Domaines of our Elector, and the Money they have produc'd the 2 last Years: Together with the Names of those who had the Management of those Revenues, and the Places of their abode. IV. That they likewise put into their Hands, Copies of the Resolutions of all the Diets of the Estates that have been held since 1704. The King of Sweden has his Head-Quarters at Alt-Ranstad; but Forrage beginning to be very scarce thereabouts, 'tis talk'd his Majesty will shortly remove to Rhote: His Foot, that were in the Province of Misnia, are come into the open Country 3 or 4 Miles round this City, and are canton'd in the Villages. 'Tis said his Majesty has resolv'd to give Direction for fortifying this Place and furnishing the Castle with more Artillery. A Paper has been publish'd here, which shews that since the War began in Poland, there have been sent into that Kingdom 819 Pieces of Cannon drawn out of the Arsenals of Dresden and other Places of this Country; as also 36648 Soldiers; and that in 7 Years 88 Millions have been rais'd in Saxony, for carrying on that War.

From the Harl. and Amst. Cour. dated Oct. 19.

Leipsich, Oct. 13. The King of Sweden has commanded of our Electorate 625000 Rixdollars Contributions a Month, that is to say Forrage to the Value of 125000 Rixdollars and the other 500000 in Money. The Estates have therefore sent Deputies, to remonstrate to him the Inability the Country is in to raise such a Sum.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated October 19.

Berlin, Oct. 13. Commerce and Trade suffering very much in the neighbouring Countries by the Irruption of the Swedes into Saxony, the King of Prussia has establish'd a Fair in this City, which is to begin the 1st of November yearly and hold 15 Days, and has granted Permission to all Merchants, both Natives and Forreigners, to come hither with their Goods, declaring for their Encouragement that they shall be excus'd from Paying any Duty or Impost.

Hamburg, Oct. 15. The Duke of Wolfembuttel designs to send his great Marshal M. Steynberg to the King of Sweden, with a Commission relating to his Invasion of Saxony: 'Tis advis'd that Hall is appointed for the Ministers of several Potentates to meet in, and confer about Means to re-establish the Quiet of the Circle of Saxony.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 19.

Dresden, Oct. 13. Count Wratislaw Ambassador Extraordinary from the Emperour arriv'd Yesterday at Leipsich, and 'tis said has had Audience of the King of Sweden at Alt-Ranstad, and deliver'd to him a Letter from his Imperial Majesty. Letters from upper Poland say King Augustus was arriv'd near Warsaw with 3 or 4000 Horse; and that the Czar is gone from Kiovia towards Moscow, with Design to go from thence to visit the Places of Slen-telbourg and Petersbourg.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 19.

Paris, Oct. 11. Baron Spaar, a Swede in our King's King's Service, is sent to the King of Sweden in Saxony. The Czar of Muscovy who has been some Time at this Court, has concluded a Treaty of Commerce between France and Muscovy, by which the Czar obliges himself to grant a Toleration to Roman Catholics in his Dominions, with Liberty to found Convents.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated Oct. 19.

Aeth, Oct. 16. The Army of the Allies is still encamp'd between Cambron and Soignies. Part of the Enemy's Army is mov'd very near to Mons, to observe them. Most of the Pioneers that attended the Army of the Allies, are dismiss'd and sent home.

Audenarde, Oct. 16. Yesterday 10000 Men detach'd from the Army of the Allies pass'd the Schelde near Pont d'Espiers, and march'd to Courtray, which Town is fortifying strongly. The Garrison of Meenen is increas'd to 8000 Men.

Amsterdam, Oct. 19. The Army of the Allies commanded by the Duke of Marlborough, which are at present at Cambron, will encamp at Soignies about the 24th Instant, and thence march to Hall, where they will separate and the Troops be order'd to their Winter Quarters. The Field-Marshal M. d'Auverquerque is to command at Brussels, and to have under him General Dopf, Lieutenant-General Heuckelom, Major General Vilatte, and the Prince of Hesse. Count Tilli is to command in Louvain, and to have under him M. Dedem and the Earl of Athlone. M. Salish is to command in Mechlen, and to have under him M. Dompere, and Colliers. The Earl of Albemarle is to command at Liege and on the Maese, and to have under him M. Hompesch, Oxenstern, Soutland, and La Lecq. The English Troops are to Quarter in Ghent, with their General Officers; and the Danes in Bruges. The Troops of Lunenburg are to be quarter'd on the Demer and in Louvain. M. Murray is to command in Courtray, M. Fagel in Sluys, M. Pallant in Aeth, and M. Lauder in Hulst or Dendermond, of which they are the several Governours. The Brigadiers are commanded to keep near their respective Regiments. 'Tis talk'd the Duke of Marlborough will leave the Army in a few Days, and go to the Hague; and that after he has concerted Measures with the States upon some Affair of Consequence, he will make a Journey up into Germany, to Vienna, Saxony, or Berlin; or perhaps to all three. Letters from Paris of the 16th Instant say, that the Court of France being apprehensive the Defeat their Army receiv'd before Turin and the Progress the Duke of Savoy and Prince Eugene have since made, may have a very bad Influence upon their Affairs in Spain, have resolv'd to send back into the Plain of Piemont a Body of Troops, to maintain themselves there till the shatter'd Army of the Duke of Orleans is in a Condition to march thither. Some Letters add, that the Detachment of French that had entred the Valley of Aoste, have been oblig'd to retire, not being able to maintain themselves there. They tell us likewise, that 'twas the Talk at Paris that a Dutchman of Note was treating of Peace with their Court; but that this Report was given out by the Ministry for two Ends, to amuse the People and to create Jealousy among the Allies.
